Baseball

Baseball has been for many years the national game of the United States. It is now widely played in almost every country of the world.

American soldiers and sailors in World War II had much to do with spreading the game. It was one of their favorite recreations whenever they could find time to play. Natives of countries in Europe, Asia, Australia, and many Pacific islands became interested in the game of baseball and learned how to play it from American servicemen.

Even before World War II, baseball had enjoyed some international growth. Tours made by famous American college and professional teams had brought the game to Japan and other countries. Native players developed considerable skill at the sport.

Minor Leagues are very numerous. Nearly all of them have eight teams, representing cities and towns located in the same general area. The minor leagues are classes according to the size of the cities they represent, and the worth of the players they can afford to hire.

Many players start in small leagues and move up step by step until they reach the major leagues. Changes of player are made through sales or trades. A team can buy or sell players, or it can trade them in exchange for other players.

How the Game is Played. Each baseball team consists of nine men; pitcher, catcher, first baseman, second baseman, third baseman, shortstop, left fielder, center fielder, and the right fielder. The diagram of the field shows about where each of these men stands when the field is ready to play.

Lucky Escape

"You say you served in France?" said the restaurant manager, as he stamps the new cook's first soup.

"Yes, sir. Officer's cook for two years, and wounded twice."

"Your lucky, man. It's a wonder they didn't kill you."

Like Father, Like Son

"What a boy you are for asking questions," said the father. "I'd like to know what would have happened if I'd asked as many questions when I was a boy."

"Perhaps," suggested the youngster, "you'd have been able to answer some of mine."

9th and 10th Grade News

In Civics we are studying about the management of business and how buying and selling takes place. We are planning to visit some of the plants in Sandusky.

In English we have been writing themes and we had to write an eight page story. Our story was our six weeks test.

In Algebra we have been factoring. We have been having a good time doing it.

In Biology we have been studying about the different glands and where they are located, the five senses, the different types of tastes and our marvous system. We all regret very much that our biology teacher Mr. Hughes has left us.

The 9th and 10th Grade are planning to go on a trip. We hope to have a dance before the year is over.

High School Teachers

The children of Estes High school would like to show their appreciation and say they are very sorry that Mr. Hughes couldn't stay and finish out the school year. Many of the children were very unhappy when they heard that Mr. Hughes had resigned from our school.

We want to show our appreciation that Mrs. Schlessleman could come in our school and teach the subjects that we didn't have a teacher for. We know it is hard for her, but we will do the best we can to help her.

SAINT PATRICK

A patron of Ireland and a Saint of the Roman Catholics Church. Saint Patrick was born at Bannivem which may have been in England near the Seven estuary, or in Scotland near the modern city of Dumbarton.

The Saint's British name is said to have been Suat. Patrick is the English form of his Latin name, Patricius.

Saint Patrick had a romantic life full of adventures. He was captured by pirates from Ireland at sixteen. They carried him back there, and set him tending the flocks of a chieftain in Ulster. Six years of slavery made him a devoted Christian. He escaped to France and became a monk. In 432 a vision led him to return to Ireland as a missionary bishop. He worked zealously in various parts of the island for the rest of his life. His labors were so successful that he came to be known as one "who found Ireland all heathen and left it all Christian." Over 300 Churches were founded by Saint Patrick and more than 120,000 people were baptized.

Many legends grew up about this popular Saint. One of the best known is that he charmed the snakes of Ireland, some driven into the water and drowned.

Many relics of this Saint were held sacred for a thousand years, during the Reformation. A four sided hill, said to be his, is in the Museum of Arts and Sciences in Dublin. An ancient stone chain is on the Rock of Cashel. Much study has been given to Saint Patrick; but little that goes beyond the testimony of his own writings can be accepted as certain.

Spring Is Here

Spring is the season of the year between winter and summer. In the Northern Hemisphere, spring begins on March 21 and lasts until June 21. March 21 the sun crosses the equator and starts northward. As it travels north, its rays strike the northern countries more directly each day, and the weather grows steadily warmer. In the Southern Hemisphere, spring begins in September and ends in December.

Spring is the time when life begins again in Nature. Birds return from the South. Trees become leafy again, and flowers begin to bloom. The farmers begin to plant his crops. In many countries, the people have festivals celebrating spring.

Spring is the time when children like to go out and play with their playmates. Birds fly around the little children like they want to be little playmates too. The star shines bright and the moon is watching over all the lovers of the spring-time.

(Quotations for March)

The stormy March has come at last,
With wind, and cloud, and changing skies;
I hear the rushing of the blast,
That through the valley flies.

The 1st, 2nd, 3rd Grade
News

We have been making our room pretty for spring. We put a border of tulips and butterflies on our blackboards.

The first grade boys made kites with some help from the third grade boys. They didn't last long but were lots of fun and we hope to do the same next year.

The second and third grades are having science together. Lately we have studied about a poor horned toad that was sent here by some Mexican children. It became so homesick that they had to send it back to Mexico.

The first grade made little animal cookies. We learned to read the recipe and all the steps we took in making the cookies. We plan on having some spelling and arithmetic before we finish our cookie project.

News

In our room we are coming along just fine.

Last Friday, March 28, our three grades, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades went for a hike with Mrs. Lange's room, the first to the third grade.

In our room all the grades in our classes are coming pretty good.

Last month Hanky Schlesselma and I made a bulletin board for our room.

In our room we are going to have a Honor Role.

A person who has A's and B's could be on it.

The sixth grade has been wanting to go to see the picture Quo Vadis in Sandusky.

We were counting on going on last Friday, but no boats. Now we are planning to go Tuesday, March 31.

Giving thanks to Mrs. F. Mc Killips, that Marline's mother. Thanks again.

Thinking about Marline, she had a birthday, March 20, and we had a treat.

I had a birthday too February 21 and they had treats then too.

David Platt is sick today and we all miss him. In our six weeks Spelling test I said that I would give anyone in the fourth grade a nickel if they got a hundred. Carol Perruchon got a hundred and Don Schlesselman. I gave them each a nickel.

Well we are all working hard on book reports.

Compliments to the upstairs for letting us borrow some library books.

Compliments to the first grade. Thanks for the delicious cookies. In our history we are drawing scenes of different parts of our country.

Compliments to the Perruchon for letting us use their Dictionary.

Compliments to Mr. Hilliard and other people for the school ground things.

Happy Birthday to Mr. Hilliard.

I Wonder Why:

James Erne likes the Senior girls better than the ones his own age?

The teachers and the pupils can't get along together?

Ronald Beatty likes to tease Miss Esther Ruth Bugal so much?

Carol Schlessleman is so sad during the month of March?

Russell Matso doesn't like the idea of going to Texas?

Willard Norris doesn't want to cut his hair too short?

Nick Bianchi likes to sit in the front seat during the last Semester of School?

Geraldine Erne knows how to do most of the cooking during the Home Economics Class?

Bernadette* Mc Killips gets letters from the Cleveland Indians Training Base?

Mary Ellen likes to wear suits to school on certain days?

The Seniors and Junior wants to go to Jackson, Ohio on there school trip this year?

Ada Mc Killips likes to write a letter every day overseas?

Billy Erne likes to eat with the girls during noon hour?

Donna Lenyo doesn't have any interest in Typing Class anymore?

Carol Haig likes to go to the Dentist so often, but never finds the time for her own teeth to visit with the Dentist?

Renetta Erne is more interested in fishing lately?

Ronald Ingram can't seem to find time to keep his mind on his studies?

Gladys Matso likes to sit and look out the windows during classes?

The High School girls don't miss school as much as they use to?

The boys in High School don't tease Miss Esther Ruth Bugal about Ben Elfers any more?

Everybody likes it better when Mrs. Schlesselman is in the school to teach them?

We don't have a comedian in our school anymore?

Easter

Appropriately marked by the blossoming forth of Life anew in the spring, the holy festival of Easter is observed in many branches of the Christian Church to commemorate Christ's resurrection.

Many customs, beautiful and quaint, have been and still are observed in churches and in homes as an expression of joy because of Christ rose from the dead. Churches have special services for this closing of the forty days of Lent, and flowers of white, especially Easter lilies, decorate the altars as a sign of purity and light. The sending of Easter eggs is a custom thought to have originated with the Persians and, the eggs being symbols of new life. Coloring them red typifies significance. Another custom, the presence of the Easter "rabbit" in the festivities, may be traced to the old belief is thought by some authorities to be of Teutonic origin, and is the basis of many stories for children.

The name Easter comes from the Anglo-Saxon Eostre, a goddess of light or spring whose festival was celebrated in April. The name of the festival in Greek, French, Italian, and most other languages is taken from the Hebrew pesach, meaning passover, as by the first Christians Easter was considered a continuation of the feast of the Passover, at which the paschal lamb, symbol of Christ, was sacrificed.

The proper time for celebrating Easter was long in dispute in the Christian Church. The Christians of the East first held Easter on the fourteenth of Nisan (corresponding to April), the day on which the Jewish Passover fell. The majority of the Church, however, celebrated it on the Sunday after that day. Finally, the Council of Nice, in A.D. 325, fixed Easter as the first Sunday after the full moon which appears on or next after March 21. By "full moon" is meant the fourteenth day of the calendar moon. If the moon is full March 21, and should that day be Saturday, March 22 would be Easter, that is the earliest date on which it could fall. The latest date for Easter would be April 25; that would be the date if the moon should fall on Monday, April 19.

Words

Whenever I hear the word called sky
I see the clouds go drifting by.
I see the Milky Way so white
And I see the stars shining so bright.
Whenever I hear the word called play
I see the children so happy and gay,
I see the girls talking in the hall
And I see the boys playing ball.
Whenever I hear the word called spring
I hear the birds starting to sing.
I see the grass beginning to sway
And find myself far away.

Last Will And Testament

I, Bernadette Mc Killips, of the Island of Kelleys, State of Ohio being of sound mind and memory do make, publish, and declare this my last will and testament, in manner and form as follows:

First: I give my English Literature to Gladys Matso because she likes to read.
